ANOTHER OIL COMPANY MAY INTRODUCE ITS PRODUCT HERE

The Associated Oil Company of California with a capital of $40,000,000 has its eyes upon Hawaii as a possible field for the sale of its product. H. H. Blood, a director of the company, is in Honolulu looking over the prospects and there is a possibility that long term contracts—at least more than five years terms—will be made with several of the plantations. The following article in the San Francisco Call of October 31, gives the status of the company:

The Associated Oil Company of California, representing the bulk of the oil-producing plants of the state, transacted considerable business at its meeting yesterday in the offices of W. S. Porter in the Mills building and elected officers for the ensuing year.

While the proceedings were executive it was stated that there is a decided unanimity of opinion among the oil men, and it is predicted that the mammoth oil combination will shortly be in a position to control the market and secure good prices for the output of the oil fields.

The officers elected yesterday for the forty million dollar corporation are as follows:

C. A. Canfield, president; W. G. Kerckhoff, vice president; O. Scribner, secretary; Burton E. Green, treasurer; directors: Henry Aach, W. F. Chandler, C. A. Canfield, W. G. Kerckhoff, B. F. Brooks, B. E. Green, H. H. Blood, M. J. Layman, W. A. Jacobs, O. Scribner and W. S. Porter.

The officers of the company will hold another meeting this afternoon.

H. H. Blood, one of the directors of the company, who is at present stopping at the Hawaiian Hotel, stated yesterday

SOLD SALMON WITHOUT LICENSE

Law is Being Violated by Many Asiatic Vendors of Fish.

Vendors of salmon who have failed to observe the law, as contained in sections 783 and 784 of the Penal Laws of 1897, have got themselves into trouble, for the inspector of licenses, aided by the police department, is hot after them. The law relating to the sale of salmon is as follows:

"Section 783. The annual fee for a license to sell salmon shall be $10.
"Section 784. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the sale of salmon by any person holding a license under this act to sell imported merchandise."

High Sheriff Brown stated yesterday that of late there have been many violations of the law. All vendors of meat and fish at the Fishmarket have special licenses, some of the small merchants there selling nothing but salmon. Of late, however, it has been discovered that Asiatics have been opening up small stands in various parts of the city, particularly in Kakaako and Kewalo, where they sell only salmon. They first failed to comply with the law in taking out a license. Notices were sent out during the week upon the offenders requesting them to pay the license required.

THE PLAY THIS EVENING.

Neill Company Will Open in Barbara Frietchie.

The performance of "Barbara Frietchie" to be given by Mr. Neill and his company at the Hawaiian Opera House this evening will commence at eight o'clock so that all are requested to be in their seats early.

All of the special scenery used in the play has been arranged and adjusted. It came down on the last trip of the Alameda together with that for three other plays. At present the Opera House stage is crowded with Neill scenery and still there is another car load lot which arrived with the company on the Alameda.

The second play of the Neill series to be given will be "The Lottery of Love" which is from the pen of the late Augustin Daly. He adapted it from a French source and it ran for many months at Daly's theater, New York City. In it Mr. Neill appears as Augustus Doubledet, a very much married young man who possesses an almost indescribable mother-in-law.

"Rosemary" will be given on Thursday evening and on Friday evening "The Case of Rebellious Susan" will be the play.

"The Case of Rebellious Susan" the brilliant comedy by Henry Arthur Jones, will be acted in this city next Friday evening by Mr. James Neill and his dramatic company. Mr. Neill is said to be seen at his best in the role of the calm, wise and cynical uncle, who in his unostentatious way manipulates all of the other characters. The fact that this greatest play from the pen of one of the world's greatest and most successful playwrights has never been seen in this city will give a crispness and a newness to the comedy here. Mr. Neill's organization is said to present the play with all the seriousness that underlines the comedy elements; the tragic-comedy of the marriage problem is fully appreciated by each member.

The star himself is said to act the part of Sir Richard Kato with remarkable poise and ease, preserving the wisdom and benevolent cynicism that make the character both unique and lovable.

A COLONIAL BUREAU.

McKinley Planned It and Roosevelt May Establish It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12.—The establishment of a Colonial Bureau under the Department of State, having charge of all affairs pertaining to the colonies acquired as a result of the war with Spain, with the former governor of Porto Rico, Charles H. Allen, as Director, is said to have been contemplated by the late president.

It was the intention of the president day to an Advertiser reporter that while he was heavily interested in the trust, and was one of the incorporators, yet he was not prepared to talk much on the subject for publication for the present. He stated, however, that the company had been formed for the protection of the producer of crude oil now so much sought for fuel purposes, for the reason that its use reduces the running expense of all power plants from thirty to fifty per cent where steam is used. By fixing and maintaining a price that will give the producer a fair profit and insure a great saving to the consumer, Mr. Blood stated in his opinion the use of oil as a fuel would revolutionize the manufacturing interests of California, and that in the near future it would replace coal in the Islands with a saving of at least thirty-five per cent in the cost of creating power, and at the same time give a much larger scope to the work that may be done wherever steam power is used.

The company's oil wells grew out of a nucleus at Bakersfield, California, where the developments tend to indicate a permanent supply of oil. It is the opinion of Mr. Blood that the next five years will work a revolution in machinery and that fuel oil will replace coal at almost every place now used. This would indicate that the Pacific Coast and its commercial arteries further inland would make use of the California oil product, and that if the Hawaiian consumers contracted for only five years, at the end of that time there would be difficulty in extending the contracts. He thought the consumers here would be wise in making their contracts for a longer period as a protection to themselves.

to have raised the Bureau in importance until eventually an office would be created corresponding to that held by the Colonial Secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, of England. The salary of the Director is said to have been fixed at $7,000 a year.

Whether President Roosevelt will advocate the proposition and secure its adoption has not yet developed, although it is said he views it with favor. The establishment of complete civil authority in the Philippines would give a new importance to the administration of affairs there.

Governor Taft now operates directly under the president, and is responsible to no cabinet officer. General Chaffee is under the War Department, where there is an Insular Bureau, having in charge matters relating to customs and minor subjects.

In time it is said President McKinley believed that these colonial possessions should all come under one head in Washington, and an office established, having practically all the powers and authority of an executive department, which should be elevated in a comparatively short time to the full dignity of a cabinet office.
